

Open Minded South Camden Community CAMHS

Where we are based

We are located at Ampthill Square, 219 Eversholt Street, NW1 1DR.

Finding us...

For your first appointment it can be difficult to find us. So if you are lost, don't be embarrassed – please call 0208 938 2700 and we will either direct you or come out to find you.

Ampthill Square is located between Key Shop News (no. 227) and The Food Centre (no. 211) on Eversholt St., and is located through a metal gate for entry into Ampthill Square.

How to get to us...

Please be advised that Amphill Square is set back from Eversholt Street. The picture on the right shows what the entrance to the building looks like.

Are there facilities for patients with disabilities?

Yes, there is disabled access and facilities at Amphill Square.

Car parking facilities

Unfortunately, there are no car parking facilities at Amphill Square. For disabled parking, please call numbers overleaf to arrange.

Public Transport links

By train

Mornington Crescent (tube)
London Euston (tube)
King's Cross St Pancras (tube / overground)
Camden Town (tube)

Bus routes

From Mornington Crescent
towards Warren Street: 24, 29, 134
From Aldenham Street towards
Camden: 168, 253

For more information about travel options to Amphill Square, please visit the Transport for London website at: www.tfl.gov.uk

Contact information

To contact Open Minded South Camden Community CAMHS, please contact Ampthill Square reception on: 020 8938 2700.

What is CAMHS?

CAMHS means Child and Adolescent Mental Health Services. We are part of the National Health Service (NHS) and work with others in Camden to support and help young people and their families.

In CAMHS we specialise in providing help and treatment for children and young people (0-18 years) with emotional wellbeing and behavioural difficulties.

We look forward to seeing you